

Example of Math Component for Fading Footprints

Nancy Germani, Math Teacher

All students had to study proportions and apply the concept and process of determining proportions in order to create self-portraits incorporating the physical attributes of their species.

